SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., APRIL 13, 1888

W. P. WALTON.

The following very significant article appears in the Courier-Journal, which seems to have had a revelation: The course of Governor Buckner in opposing and defeating much vicious legislation has given him and the party of which he is the representative the confidence of the people to an unusual degree. This confidence should encourage our leaders in carrying the investigation of the State Treasurer to the utmost limit, leaving no secret unrevealed. The one thing the party can not afford to do is to shield or to seem to shield any man. It has not entered on a career of persecution, but of investigation, and this investigation must be thorough, rigid and unrelenting. The revelations will, we doubt not, be of a surprising character, showing a wide-spread and alarming disregard of the written law and of sound business principles. Many prominent politicians, many public officers and some zealous reformers have drawn on the State Treasurer as on a private bank, which never refused a draft or protested a note. The indulgence afforded by the treasurer may or may not have had the effect to stifle opposition or silence criticism, but whatever the motive of the borrower, the purpose of the genial gentlemen in charge of the State's affairs is plain enough at this time. The democratic party's future success depends on the thoroughness and the strict impartiality of this investigation. It must root out all existing abuses. It must reform altogether, prevalent business methods. In this way only can justice be done to the people and the schemes of our political opponents brought to naught. When the final report is made there will be weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth, but this report should be so clear and comprehensive that every man may know that the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth has been told.

A PHILADELPHIA paper figures that the democrats have a dead sure thing on 180 electoral votes and the republicans 182, with Indiana, Connecticut and New Jersey debatable ground. There are 401 electoral votes and it will require 201 to elect a president. The democrats, according to this calculation, only need 12 to secure a majority. If they get Indiana, which seems almost certain, they get 15 votes which will be three more than enough, or if they fail to carry Indiana and carry the other two with 6 and 9 votes, respectively, there will still be three votes to spare. On the other hand the republicans will have to carry Indiana and one of the doubtful States to win. Even more hopeful is the Cincinnati Enquirer, which figures that the democrats will have 219 votes certain, while the republicans cannot bank on but 91. The same paper puts California, Colorado, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, Ohio, Oregon and Rhode Island, with an aggregate of 91 votes, in the list of doubtful States. This is entirely too rosy a view of the matter, but that the democracy will win and Cleveland succeed himself, we have no doubt.

The House Pension Committee has determined to report favorably the pauper pension bill as it passed the Senate, with an amendment which gives every Northern soldier a monthly pension of one cent for every day served in the war. The dependent pension bill is the one which Senators Beck, Vest and Blackburn denounced as involving $500,000,000 outlay and on which Ingalls made his effort. It is a monstrous raid, but it will no doubt be passed, too rigorous, though, and the government at Washington still lives, with Grover Cleveland at its head ready to stand between the treasury and the coffee-coolers and bounty-jumpers.

Gov. BECKNER having clabbed a number of their loaded bills, the Louisville delegation, which with perhaps one or two exceptions, is about as sorry a lot as the city could send, have gotten clean out with him and are disposed to fight him on every occasion. The board of trade of the city has already endorsed the noble old governor's vetoes, and tonight a mass meeting of the citizens will say in thunder tones that its representatives are either too fresh or too venal for them.

AFTER spending five days discussing Gov. Buckner's suggestion for the appointment of a commission to make a thorough examination of all the public offices at Frankfort, the jackassical 55-day statesmen decided not to do so. The House, however, voted to prolong the session till May 1th, thus fulfilling our prediction before the session body met that the May flowers would bloom before it gave up its underhold on the treasury.

Gov. McCREARY made a very conclusive and exhaustive speech last week on his bill to establish a United States land court, and to provide for a judicial investigation and settlement of private land claims in the Territories of Arizona, New Mexico and in the State of Colorado. The court is only to last four years and those who know deem it of the greatest importance. The bill will likely become a law.

THE Kentucky counties are going right along instructing for Col. Bradley for vice-president and the prospect is that his State will endorse him for the position unanimously. Of course this is very gratifying to us, who have always stood by the gentleman from Garrard, and our thanks are due those who have so cordially adopted our suggestion to make him a candidate for the second place on the ticket.

SENATOR STANFORD, of California, is an announced candidate for the republican nomination for president. He will, however, fail to get there. No such decent and independent man as he will ever be placed at the head of the republican cohorts. He voted to confirm the rebel brigadier, Lucius Quintus Marcellus Lamar, and that damn him eternally with the party of the bloody shirt.

On the bill to refund the direct tax collected during the war the National House has been dead-locked since April 4th and it is still that day on the calendar. Some of the sessions have lasted all night long, nothing being done save the presentation of and action upon dilatory motions.

ROSCOE CUNNINGHAM will be perhaps the next distinguished man to be added to the fast growing necrology of 1888. He had an abscess inside of his skull, which was opened for the discharge of the pus. The operation was very successfully performed, but he is liable to die at any time.

GEN. GREEN CLAY SMITH has not accepted the prohibition nomination for Congressman in this district and the fact that he will take charge of the Baptist church at Mt. Sterling seems to give color to the impression that he will not. It's dollars to cents he will, however.

It is said that for several years the question of what to do with the ever accumulating surplus has worried the Brotherhood of Engineers. The Burlington strike seems to have solved it, at least the larger part of it has gone to help the strikers in their fight.

NEWS CONDENSED.

—The L. & N. lost $100,000 by the recent floods in the South.

—Kentucky Chautauqua will open July 6th at Woodland Park, Lexington.

—A bill making May 30th a legal holiday has passed both Houses of the legislature.

—Claude M. Johnson, of Kentucky, has been appointed Indian agent in Arizona.

—The report that Jay Gould was dead was a rumour which is sprung every once and a while.

—Capt. Paul Boyton has started on a 1,000 mile swim from Wheeling, W. Va., down the Ohio River.

—Henry B. Lovering has been appointed U. S. marshal for Massachusetts, to succeed Gen. N. P. Banks.

—Lillian Olcott, the actress, died in New York from the effects of a cold contracted during the late blizzard.

—A special dispatch from Montevideo reports the loss of the steamer Rio Janeiro with 120 passengers on board.

—Miss Barlene, of Jessamine county, was bitten by a mad dog and the chances are that she will die from the effects.

—A Texas farmer stabbed his daughter 16 times, killing her instantly, because she married against his wishes.

—The president has nominated Brigadier General George Crook to be Major General, vice Alfred H. Terry retired.

—A stock company at Jersey City, N. J., with $1,000,000 capital, has been organized for the construction of air ships.

The last of the Kansas breweries has been closed under the U. S. Supreme Court decision in the Ziebold & Hagelin case.

The New York Tribune says the republican Senate shall not confirm Carlisle if the president appoints him Chief Justice.

—Todd county democrats heartily endorsed the administration of Cleveland and Buckner at a meeting held at Elkton Monday.

—John Vico, for total blindness, has just drawn a pension arrearage of $11,000 and will get $72 a month hereafter. He lives in Bath county.

—A democratic caucus Wednesday night decided that the dead-lock should be broken by a postponement of the direct tax bill to next December.

—Lead and silver mines in Scott county show properties of 70 per cent. of the former and 30 per cent. of the latter, are to be worked by a Louisville syndicate.

—The Supreme Court has decided that what is commonly known as the "Oleomargarine Act" is constitutional. Justice Harlan delivered the opinion, Justice Field dissenting.

—J. M. Thomas, of Paris, has resigned as commissioner of the branch penitentiary at Eddyville, because of the failure of the General Assembly to provide salaries for the commission.

—Mrs. E. L. Harper is conducting her husband's business while he is sojourning in the Ohio penitentiary, and is doing it well. She has just purchased a controlling interest in the Riverside Iron and Steel Works.

—A woman at Richmond, Mrs. Frances, says the Climax, is preaching that prophecy has been fulfilled and that the Savior is on earth, for she has just returned from Illinois, where she saw him. Mrs. Frances' place seems to be in the Lexington asylum.

—A Georgia man committed suicide by holding his breath until he was dead. This is the third case ever known of the kind.

—The members of the class of '87, Union Theological Seminary, are asked to send the annual class letter and 75 cents for printing to Alex W. Crawford, class secretary, Campbellsville, Ky.

—Mrs. J. W. Reynolds, of Las Vegas, N. M., was accidentally shot through the heart and killed by the discharge of her husband's revolver, which fell from his pocket while walking on the street.

—The State Normal School building at Terre Haute, Ind., was totally destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at $240,000 and no insurance. Eight hundred pupils escaped from the burning building without injury.

—Blinkey Morgan, condemned to die for his participation in the murder of a detective, who ferreted out the big fur robbery at Cleveland in 1887, has been refused a new trial and sentenced to hang June 1st in the Ohio penitentiary.

—Mrs. Burpee committed suicide at Henderson by sending a bullet through his head. Mr. C. W. Chase, Chicago, goes to the other side by hanging himself with a handkerchief while under arrest for selling a robe supposed to have been stolen.

—There is little doubt that Hon. William L. Scott is slated for chairman of the Democratic National Committee. He will head the Pennsylvania delegation to the National Convention and will undoubtedly conduct the canvass for Mr. Cleveland's re-election.

—Gov. Buckner, of Kentucky, in a communication to the New York Tribune, says of local option in his State that in many localities it is beneficial, but it is a decided failure in others. In his opinion a high license is the best temperance law. —[Ex.]

—Because the contractors would not increase their wages from $1.25 to $1.50 per day, about a hundred of the men employed in the Tennessee end of Cumberland Gap Tunnel struck. Notices were posted in conspicuous places ordering that none of the men should work at the price paid, and furthermore, if they persisted in so doing they would be shot down in their tracks. The contractors sent a force of men and started them to work. No sooner had they begun when then the strikers fired on them with Winchester rifles and pistols and killed five of the number. The sheriff of Claiborne county, Tenn., has gone in search of the murderers.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—A little girl of W. A. Arnold is quite ill with pneumonia.

—Lancaster has five fish merchants. No wonder our people are brainy.

—Maria, a little girl of J. W. Griffin, has the pneumonia and is a very sick child.

—What has become of the Louisville Southern? It is time the locomotives were being heard.

—Overton Agee was married April 10 to Miss Ella May. The bride was 19 and the bride 13. All of this county.

—It begins to look like the K. C. will be the only railroad Lancaster will ever have. Let us have a bus line to Preachersville.

—Mrs. Lucinda Greenleaf, who was so badly injured by a fall recently, is very low and fears are entertained as to her recovery.

—Grover Cleveland and Simon Bolivar Buckner would make a good team to carry the old democratic ship to a safe harbor.

—The villain who called our home paper the "K. C. News" had best keep out of Mr. Hughes' way, as Dawson has blood in his eye.

—The Tilt Family will give a concert at the opera house here Saturday evening, April 14. Proceeds for the benefit of the W. C. T. U.

—When the Louisville Southern is opened from Harrodsburg to Louisville, Lancaster will have another express line to Louisville—the United States.

—A Knights of Pythias lodge will be established here about the 23d instant. There will be not less than three lodges in attendance, and a big time is expected.

—W. S. Ferguson went to Covington Tuesday. Uncle Jordan Perkins is still very low. Dr. Wm. Jennings and John E. Greenleaf, of Richmond, were here Wednesday.

—John Bonning was tried in the police court Wednesday for tying and maiming a horse belonging to Mrs. Sutton and held to the circuit court in the sum of $50. Bond was readily furnished.

—Twenty-four dogs were in sight on the square in Lancaster this morning. This would be a good place for Pasteur to locate. Four-fifths of our citizens are certain to have hydrophobia this summer.

—The Glee Club, consisting of four young men of Kentucky University at Lexington, will give a concert at the opera house here Friday evening, April 27, for the benefit of the Home Missionary Society. These young gentlemen sang here last Christmas and gave great satisfaction to their listeners.

—Having only part of a railroad, Lancaster can boast of six daily mails, two express companies, two daily stages to Danville, one to Stanford, one so Nicholasville and a tri-weekly to Buckeye. There is but one thing that can prevent a citizen of this goodly town going where he pleases and that is the almighty dollar.

DANVILLE, BOYLE COUNTY.

—Sells Bros' circus and menagerie is billed for Danville May 3d.

—A little child of Mrs. Iva Yeiser is reported by Dr. McMurtry as very ill with pneumonia.

—The meeting at the Methodist church still continues. There have been two additions up to the present.

—Col. Charles E. Bowman, ex-commissioner of agriculture, died at Frankfort this, Thursday, morning.

—License for the marriage of R. T. Overstreet and Janie E. Clarkson was issued by the county clerk on the 7th inst.

—Mr. Thomas Middleton, from Harrodsburg, succeeds L. C. Alcorn as telegraph operator. The latter has removed to Greensburg.

—W. B. Moore has made an assignment to his brother, Robert Moore, for the benefit of his creditors. Assets and liabilities unknown.

—Wm. Robinson was before the police court Thursday morning for a breach of the peace and James Welsh for injuring property belonging to another person.

—C. S. Jackson, administrator of the late Mr. T. W. Jackson, will sell the personalty belonging to the estate on Saturday, the 21st inst., beginning at 1:30 o'clock P. M.

—The portion of human remains found on McClelland's ridge, in Pulaski county, turns out to be what is left of two peddlers, whom the Hill brothers and their housekeeper murdered and cut up for hog food. The woman has made a confession and says that the men got $200.

LEGISLATIVE DOINGS.

—A bill entitled "An act to provide for the punishment of petit larceny in Calloway county," has been offered by Senator Rigney.

Senator Rigney has offered the following: A bill to repeal an act, entitled "An act to provide for repairing and keeping in repair the public roads in Lincoln county," approved February 24, 1888.

Colston, the upstartish member from Bell county, and Cox, of Wayne, came near shooting at one another Wednesday. We suppose that if they begin killing each other off we shall in the hazy future be rid of the body.

—Lawyer Davidson, who also aspires to statesmanship as well, has been trying to have the legislature adjourn till next November after it concludes its present grind, but his proposition was voted down 19 to 43. Davidson is not a Solomon, as every one knows, but he has gumption enough to discern a good thing when he has it and therefore wants to hang on till the cows come home. He has the softest snap he ever had or ever will have again and he will give it up like parting with an arm or a leg. The poor fellow is to be pitied more than condemned, however.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Evangelist Todd's meeting at Main Street Christian church, Lexington, continues, with about 70 additions.

—A month from last Wednesday the Southern Baptist Convention meets at the First church, Richmond, Va. It is claimed that the convention represents 1,000,000 church members.

—Rev. H. T. Daniels has had to resign the pastorate of the Baptist church at Glasgow on account of failing health. His physicians say that a month's rest may restore him sufficiently to begin preaching again.

—Rev. W. L. Young, of the Central Presbyterian church of Louisville, has received a call from the First Presbyterian church (Walnut Hills) of Cincinnati, at a salary of $6,000 a year. He was called last year by the Centre College, of Danville, to assume the duties of its president, a position which his distinguished father first held, but declined.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—More horse ads. See O. J. Frow's in regard to his horse and jack.

—A half million dollars worth of stallions were exhibited at Lexington Monday, horse show day.

—Lambs are quoted in Cincinnati at 8 to 11 cents; cattle at 11 to 14 and hogs at 3 to 5.50 and all fairly active.

—J. C. Johnson bought of H. B. Stagg, Jr., his lot of lambs, to be delivered about the 10th of June, at 5 cts.

—D. B. Stagg, Jr., sold to Thomas C. Robinson 14 hogs, weighing about 200 pounds, for June delivery, at 5 cts.

The William Anson Wood Mower and Reaper works at Youngstown, Ohio, burned yesterday morning. Loss $250,000 and 500 men thrown out of work.

—Wakfield, Moreland & Co. have sold to Louisville parties 82 cattle to be delivered on June 10 at 4 and 5 cents per pound. These are the cattle that are being fed at the Wiley Searcy distillery. [Danville Advocate.]

In our horse column this issue will be found the advertisements of Bayan, 6,180 and Ringold, by Metropolitan, dam Joette. These horses are owned by W. S. Wigham, who resides near Moreland, and who will gladly give further information of them if desired.

—John Y. Myers is as happy as a young husband is over his first baby. The reason is that his fine black mare by Lincoln Chief has dropped a beautiful dark bay horse colt, by Gambetta. The promising youngster has been named Robert Harding, in honor of Danville's splendid young lawyer.

Mr. Packard is our authority for the number of fish and those who are the least bit doubtful as to the truth of the statement can satisfy themselves by calling on Mr. P., who has preserved the heads and tails of each one of them.

New Goods For THE THOUSANDS. The well-known firm of S. L. Powers & Co., of this place, opened an immense stock of goods in Lancaster, Ky., Thursday of this week. They are live business men and will make things hot in their line. They have just opened out in their new double store, on opposite side of their old stand, in Stanford, where they are carrying an immense stock and will be pleased to meet all their old customers and friends.

The editor went to Louisville Tuesday intending to represent the great county of Lincoln in the prohibition convention but when he learned that Mrs. Nichol would oppose his favorite buddy to let the short haired, pantalooned old maids crowd up to the polls and vote, he knew it would be useless for him to attempt to stem the current her eloquence would prove, so he returned yesterday in disgust. Another reason was that Buck Beer was ripe and he was afraid that he might be tempted like some of the other weak-kneed brethren. He saw Mr. W. B. Veach though, and he promised to hold Lincoln county down.

STRANGE BUT TRUE. Mr. L. C. Touch, our good friend at Waynesburg, sends us the following: A rather remarkable death occurred in this neighborhood last Sunday at 8 o'clock a. m., at the house of Samuel Dismons. Just 12 months from the day above mentioned one of his little boys was kicked by a horse and was thought by the physician to be fatally injured. However, after a long time, the boy to all appearances recovered and went about the farm work with his other brothers. About two weeks since he was taken suddenly ill with the same symptoms that he complained with when first hurt. The boy grew worse every day, until Sunday morning at 8 o'clock, just one year to the hour, when he died.

SEVERAL nights ago a couple of young society gentlemen of about 16 summers started out to see some of Stanford's female beauty, thinking that the father of the young ladies they were to call on was away from home. Nothing of unusual importance happened on the road, save they had talked in gleeful terms of what an elegant evening they were going to spend, until these initiators of Oscar Wilde reached their destination. A ring of the door bell brought to the door, not the young ladies, but the old gentleman himself, who had come home in the meantime. The boys, scared nearly out of their wits by his august appearance, stood dumbfounded. Growing tired of waiting to see what they wanted, the gentleman of the house invited them to walk in and stay till they could think of what they came for. After sitting in a thinking attitude for half an hour or more one of the boys summoned courage enough to mumble out that he wished to see the old gentleman's son, a boy of their own age, and with this young gentleman our courting friends passed the evening.

As elegant new line of pants patterns and cassimere for spring and summer just received. Owsley & Craig.

The rain of Monday was succeeded by a slight cold wave Tuesday. It was chilly yesterday, with indications for slowly rising temperature.

We will have our opening on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 26, 27 and 28, and cordially invite all the ladies to be present. Courts & Cox.

A GENTLEMAN residing here saw the Till Family Concert Company at the Grand Opera House in Cincinnati and pronounced it an elegant as well as a wonderful entertainment. See them at Walton's Opera House to-night.

The Galt House, Louisville, has no superior anywhere in these parts and considering its price run from $2.50 to $4 a day, it is the cheapest. Manager A. R. Cooper and Chief Clerk T. A. Mulligan, are evermost exemplified and make all who stop at the famous hotel to feel at home.

I HAVE been to Louisville and Cincinnati and bought my stock of spring and summer millinery. I will have an elegant stock of everything in my line and ask all the ladies to call in and examine. Will let my patrons know later as to date of my summer opening. Mrs. Kate Dunderar.

It was all a joke about Bright Ferrell wanting to be marshal. He only wanted to worry Pete Hampton. It was said yesterday that George S. Carpenter stood the best show, but Newland was industriously circulating a petition, which was being signed by the best people, asking that he be retained.

The Sixton National Bank at St. Joe, Mo., which a year or so ago got a little shaky and caused many of the stockholders here to sell out, declared a quarterly dividend of 2 1/2 per cent. on the 31st. Its loans and discounts amount to $1,031,587 89; its surplus to $50,000 and its deposits to $1,004,390 52. J. W. McAlister is cashier.

JOHN H. CRAIG & SON, Stanford, Ky., have opened a fashionable merchant tailoring department, in connection with their business to manufacture here men's fine suits, under the management of A. W. Barker, formerly of Danville, Ky., to be assisted later by a New York artist. Customers have the privilege of having suits cut and made here, or by Browning, King & Co., New York, or Wamaker & Brown, Philadelphia, at popular prices, with about 1,000 foreign and American fabrics to select from. Quality, style and fit guaranteed, or no sale.

An attempt is being made by H. J. Darr and others to establish another school district, which will take in Rowland and the East End of Stanford from Logan Avenue down. Those interested claim that the new school building was put up in the West End that their children cannot attend and they propose to tax themselves sufficiently to build a school-house and run a school nine months in the year. There is some kicking about this end and the other. It is a little hard on this end, after they have paid taxes to secure the present building.

Under Court. In the case of J. M. Wray against the Stanford & Hustonville Turnpike Co., for $3,000 damages, Judge Morrow gave peremptory instructions for the defendant.

W. B. Wright, who was injured by a train on the Cincinnati Southern, in 1886, got a verdict Wednesday for $1,000 damages. E. E. Wright vs. Richard Barnett, decided in favor of the former only.

James Beazley sued the L. & N. for $250 for killing a horse, which was valued at that sum. The case was tried yesterday, when Judge Morrow decided that there was not sufficient evidence to show that the killing was through negligence, and peremptorily instructed the jury to find a verdict for half the amount, that being the sum for which a road is liable where it is not fenced in. The costs were equally divided. On the strength of this, Jack Beazley compromised on $100 for the crippling of his horse.

The long pending case of Henry Baughman vs. M. C. Portman to force the contract entered into by the latter to pay $750 a year for ten years for the Portman Hotel, was decided yesterday by Judge Morrow, who gave judgment against the defendant for $55 balance due on rent for 1886, and ordered that the contract be cancelled from January 1, 1887. The suit grew out of the adoption of prohibition here. Portman claimed that but for the right to sell liquor in the house he would not have made such a contract and that it was so understood. On the 1st of January, 1887, Portman notified Baughman that he would not pay any rent after that date, but would claim pay for remaining and taking care of the joint property. Mr. Baughman will take the case to a higher court.

The motion for a new trial in the Bank-Hillside case was overruled by the Judge yesterday.

The suit of Higgins vs. the Town of Crab Orchard, which has been to the Court of Appeals once or twice, was on trial last evening. It is for damages sustained by reason of a house belonging to the plaintiff being set on fire and burned, because it was alleged it was used for immoral purposes.
